Dear Josh:

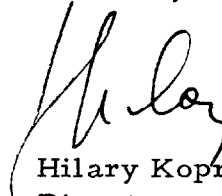

In spite of all efforts, I am unable to find someone to substitute for me for my Virology Lecture on Monday, April 29th. I was wondering, therefore, if it would be possible to push up my trip to the week of April 22nd.

Specifically, I could fly out to San Francisco on the newly scheduled non-stop jet Wednesday evening, April 24th. We could then spend Thursday and Friday on business discussions and perhaps devote Saturday to relaxation. I would then return home early Sunday morning. ✓

I don't know if this new schedule will fit in with your plans but I do hope that eventually, we will hit on something that will suit us both and that we can get together.

All the best to you and Esther.

Sincerely,

Hilary Koprowski, M. D.
